

The Oriented challenge in ShangHai

Shanghai coordinate city oriented challenge has successfully held three sessions. In 2013 Shanghai city orientation coordinate challenge, participants reached to 3440 people. Most of the participants on the grounds are young students. We were honored to have the chance to join the challenge. We were tired but happy to have a visit in Shanghai . We were chosen as number. 6 and number 6 is called reliving the EXPO. Everyone was excited and lost ourselves in the fantasy of the EXPO. Many beautiful and amazing museums and exhibition. What attracted us most was the China pavilion. The magnificent appearance made us feel amazed. And many people took part in this game. We needed to accomplish ten parts. And we should finish them within the stipulated time. During the time, we were running through the EXPO Park, doing different games and meeting all sorts of challenges. Such as we folded paper airplanes in order to let them fly over six meters. No one could deny it that we had fun. After all of the fantasy moments, we expect having fun again next time.

130907213 zimeng chen class2□□

On 11th May, I went to ShangHai in order to take part in the challenge in shanghai called Oriented challenge with four friends. Two friends are from Shanghai DongHua university. And the others are from Zhejiang University Of Media and Communications. Although we come from different schools, we still had a good time.

In a word, the game means not just a thing but a true story of passion and cooperation. The memory is so nice and I will remember it all the time. Each activity has its meaning. Just like this activity. I gradually know what is cooperations and solidarity today. I love my team!